True love doesn't hurt, it heals. It brings happiness to your life. It empowers you to become the best version of yourself. A real love is supposed to feel euphoric and spontaneous.

True Love doesn't bring Sadness, Disappointment, Pain or ...

The truth is, true love does hurt. But not in the toxic he-treats-you-bad-you-might-curl-up-and-die-without-him kind of way. It hurts because if we really love someone, we will choose to surrender the things our flesh urges us to fight for. We will look at Christ's example of sacrifice and do our best to follow His lead.

LOVE DOESN'T HURT. It is important to find your own worth. Christi says, "You need to be able to see yourself how God sees you, not in a way that reflects what you have been told.". She believes deep down every woman knows that an abusive relationship is not the life she was intended for.

Christi Paul: 'Love Isn't Supposed to Hurt'

5.0 out of 5 stars Love Isn't Supposed to Hurt. Reviewed in the United States on December 28, 2012. Verified Purchase. Very emotional book. I felt like I had been put right back in my own situation. Even though they were different, they were so much alike. I like how she hit on the point that people "overlook" verbal abuse.
